WILL JULIE
CHEN'S JOURNALISM CAREER BE KAPUT AFTER HER STINT
HOSTING BIG BROTHER?

By day, Julie Chen anchors The Early Show's news. By night, she asks weary, house-confined contestants of Big Brother questions like, "Did you have a good birthday?"

AUGUST 26-SEPTEMBER 1, 2000

Chen's moonlighting gig as host of CBS's reality show has made her the butt of jokes and raised doubts about the future of her journalism career. Even 60 Minutes commentator Andy Rooney publicly criticized her role as "a further deterioration of news standards."

"She's not going to be as credible in viewers' eyes," says Joseph Angotti, a former NBC Nightly News executive producer and broadcast-journalism chair at Northwestern University. "She participated in a program that didn't have any news guidelines or procedures. But this is not blurring the line [between news and entertainment]. This was leaping over the line." Chen declined to comment for this story. In this age of infotainment, Big Brother may be Chen's biggest opportunity for exposure. Steve Friedman, senior executive producer of The Early Show, says that "it can only help" her career. "The public is smart," Friedman says. "We make no claim that Big Brother is a news show. What news is gotten at the Macy's [Thanksgiving Day] Parade when Katie Couric and Al Roker host that?"

Hugh Downs says he faced raised eyebrows in the 1960s when he hosted Today while emceeing the game show Concentration. "The audience doesn't have a problem figuring it out," he says. "I don't think in the long run it will hurt her career. I don't think she is out of place on it."

"If this were to go on for a long time, it well [could] compromise her career," says Tom Goldstein, dean of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. "But everyone is entitled to one lapse, and this is hers."

PET SHOP BOY

MARTHA STEWART'S PET GURU IS PART NOAH, PART NERD

"HI, it's Martha Stewart. You wanna be on TV with me?" That's what Stewart recalls saying to Marc Morrone when she phoned him two years ago, after catching his regional calf-in cable show, The Pet Shop. On the show, kittens, pupples, parrots, chinchillas, rabbits and other critters play together-peacefully. "I turned on the TV, and there was a man with animals crawling all over him," Stewart says. "I was fascinated."

Today, Morrone, 41, is the pet expert for Martha Stewart Living (check TV Guine listings for times) and has his own national TV series in development. Not bad for a kid who spent recess observing pigeons and worms. Most days, he works at the Long Island, New York, pet store he has co-owned for 22 years. Every few weeks, he takes a vanioad of creatures-"We look like the clown car at the circus," he says-to Stewart's Connecticut studios and tapes segments on pet selection, training and care. Morrone lives with his wife, Kathy, their

2-year-old son, Santino, and some 21 pets, from a ferret to a macaw, on New York's Long Island. So, how can these natural-born enemies get along? "They're all my pets. They know each other." Still, he says: "Don't try this at home."

-Rob Kenner

As Obi-Wan Kenobi in "Star Wars," he brought class to science fiction. As Benjamin Disraeli in "The Mudlark," he injected wry humor into Victorian orama. Sir Alec Guinness, who died of liver cancer August 5 at age 86, was the Winston Churchill of actors-properly English but never pretentious.

In films like "Great Expectations" (his first speaking role, in 1946) and "The Bridge on the River Kwai" (for which he won the 1957 Best Actor Oscar), he was a master of the upturned brow and the sideways glance. Despite decades in film (most recently as the Grim Reaper in 1994's "Mute Witness"), Guinness, who headed numerous West End productions, saw himself as a man of the theater. Television viewers remember him in such miniseries as 1979's Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy, but he rarely appeared on talk shows. "Those curious cameras come creeping up on you," he once said. "I'm not relaxed."

Guinness preferred the relaxation of his English country estate, which he shared with Merula, his wife of 62 years. (Son Matthew is an actor.) From there he wrote letters to his many friends-including "Star Wars" costar Mark Hamill, who calls him "the grandfather I never had." One letter to Hamill, dated Christmas Eve, 1997, said, "Apart from the ravages of age, all is fine with me."

"He told me that when he read the script for 'Star Wars,' he thought it was an optimistic film in cynical times," recalls Hamill. "And that was something he wanted to be a part of." -Max Alexander

M HURNEI, BABY!

It arrived in 1966 with groovy gadgets galore, but The Green Hornet, a pulpy, organized crimefighting adventure, had none of the camp that fueled Batmania and lasted only 26 episodes.

Still, the series, starring Van Williams as newsman Britt Reid by day and superhero Green Hornet by night, is a cult classic. Why? Bruce Lee. The martialarts legend, who died in 1973, kicked his way into TV history as the trusty manservant and super sidekick Kato.

With Jet Li signed on to play Kato in the upcoming "Green Hornet" movie, collectors have sent prices of vintage Hornet memorabilia soaring.

"People realized how great it was only after it went off the air," says Tom Lowe, president of Playing Mantis, a company that specializes in reproductions of toys from the '60s and '70s. "It still has a mass following."

For fans, there's a hiveful of new merchandise and faithful reproductions of '60s tie-ins, including Green Hornet and Kato costumes (left) for the repro Captain Action dolls (figures that, with interchangeable outfits, can be many characters) and, due next year, a die-cast metal version of the duo's limousine, Black

Beauty. Sideshow Toy has released sculpted action figures of Hornet (above) and Kato (far left), with a series episode guide printed on the box. You can't watch the show-they're not available on video-but this way, at least you'll know what you're missing. -Frank DeCaro

It takes more than rat meat and muscle to make Survivor. You've got to have music. Russ Landau (below), who wrote "Ancient Voices," the show's haunting theme, is busy working on an update for the Australian outback version of the show, which starts shooting in January. The big change: less conch, more didgeridoo. Say what? "It's an instrument about five feet long, usually a > tree branch hollowed out by termites or ants," explains Landau. "The conch call at the beginning of the show was appropriate for the MUSIC SURVIVOR South China Sea, but now that we're in Australia, we need something indigenous."

Here's a Survivor-inspired trend that should make Dan Rather, Peter Jennings and Tom Brokaw quake in their wing tips: Viewers will get to decide, by vote, who will anchor a national news program. Money Watch TV.com, a daily business show that airs on Pax stations, is replacing its lead anchor, Denise Jakows (below). The finalists for the $100,000-a-year job must audition on the air beginning September 19, the same day viewers start voting. "The four hopefuls will be at the anchor desk at the end of the show, and our producer will walk up to them and say, 'Anchor No. 1, you've been voted off," says Keith Mills, president of MoneyWatchTV.com. Voting continues until there's only one anchor left. "Some people at Pax asked me about the credibility issue," Mills says. "I said credibility, shmedibility. We want ratings."

We hate to hear this, because she's always been one of our favorites, mainly due to her sunny disposition, but Pamela Anderson (left) is acting a bit SUN-LITE shady on the V.I.P. set. We hear from an insider that the woman whose claim to fame is bouncing around Baywatch's beach now can't that a giant sunscreen has been attached to a crane to follow her around and block those nasty rays whenever she steps outside her trailer into daylight. Weird. Hasn't anybody told her about sunblock?

Emmy-winning sportscaster Ahmad Rashad (above), who's gearing up to do the Olympics for NBC, has some advice for comedian Dennis Miller, who's now spicing up coverage for ABC's Monday Night Football. "He's in a tough spot, to have never played," says Rashad. "The worst thing you can do is pretend like you're really so knowledgeable. People don't like that. Just go and have a good time." Like Miller, Rashad is expanding his reach, tackling the hosting job for Real TV. "It takes me a little bit out of sports, but that just keeps life exciting."

CHEERS to giving the kid a break. Baby Bob, the 7-monthold spokesinfant for freeinternet.com, could soon graduate from commercials to a TV series. CBS is developing a sitcom for little Bob (in reality, little Hunter, a girl whose baby talk comes courtesy of digital magic and actor Ken Campbell). The show would follow the premise of the ads, in which Bob interviews stars such as Shaquille O'Neal. But could a longrunning success make Bob literally too big for his britches? No, says producer Hugh Wilson (WKRP in Cincinnati): Bob will stay forever young, though that would | gized, but the damage was mean periodic recasting. Sorry, kid, JEERS to striking out with bad jokes. During Fox's national telecast of the baseball game between the Atlanta Braves and St. Louis Cardinals on August 5, announcers Joe Buck and Tim McCarver inexplicably began a comic tirade about magician Doug Henning, with Buck joking that Henning's greatest trick ever was disappearing from public view. Clearly, neither Buck nor McCarver (nor anyone else on staff) knew that Henning died last February of liver cancer. But even so, the jokes were gratuitously mean-spirited. Buck and McCarver later apolodone. From now on, guys, stick to what you know: sports.

JEERS to breaking barriers. Pushing TV's boundaries can be a wonderful thing, but ABC and NBC have gone too far. Both have crossed the long-standing limit of 15 minutes of commercials per prime-time network hour. A study by MindShare, a New York-based media management firm, reports that during the first three months of this year, ABC ran an average of 15 minutes and 16 seconds of ads. NBC was only 10 seconds behind. Broken barriers being what they are, viewers can expect CBS, Fox and various cable channels to follow before long. So you weren't just imagining those extra interruptions lately.

CULLDC to keeping UHLLKI secrets. As much as we hate being fooled, we have to applaud Survivor executive producer Mark Burnett for his recent "Gervase wins" hoax. That is, if Burnett was truly responsible. In July, supposed clues on the Survivor Web site hinted that Gervase Peterson would be the ultimate survivor, and rumors quickly became as hot as Greg and Colleen's alleged love tent. Peterson was then, of course, voted off the island. Burnett, obviously enjoying the cat-and-mouse game, won't say he was behind the disinformation. He did, however, admit to starting those "Paul is dead" rumors back in '69. (OK, that's our disinformation.)

Unmasked THE REAL WORLD OF HOSPITAL LIFE \ \ / atching ABC

V V News's ambitious six-hour documentary Hopkins 24/7, you instantly understand why the networks keep returning to hospital dramas.

No other venue provides such an inviting window on urgent matters of life and death, allowing dark humor to coexist with tragedy in a nonstop swirl of chaos. to break new ground. Where Hopkins 24/7 (August 30 and 31, 10 P.M./ET, followed by four Wednesday episodes) excels is in its relentless intimacy.

Each episode weaves Dukakis, Leslie Caron and jazz great three main stories, usually including an intense operation or transplant procedure, often featuring young patients—an infant needing a new heart, a 4-year-old facing surgery in which half of her brain will be removed-for the maximum in heart-tugging PREVACID Delayed-Release Capsules are indicated for: 1. Short-Term Treatment of Active Duodenal Licer. 2. H. pytori Eradication in Reduce the Risk of Duodenal Licer Recurrence. 3. Maintenance of Healed Duodenal Litzers, 4. Short-Term Treatment of Active Benign Gastric Ulcer, 5. Treatment of hearthurn and other symptoms associated with GEPO (Gastroesophagea) Reliux Disease) 6. Short-Term Treatment of Erosive Esophagitis. 7. Maintenance of Healing of Erosive Esophagitis. B. Pathological Hypersecretory Conditions Including Zollinger-Ellison Syndrome.

INDICATIONS AND USAGE

CONTRAINDICATIONS

PREVACID Delayed-Release Capsules are contraindicated in patients with known hypersensitivity to any component of the formulation.

Amendation is contraindicated in potients with a known hypersensitivity to any periodin. (Please refer to full prescribing information for amodollin. before prescribing.)

Clarithromycin is contraindicated in patients with a known hypersensitivity to any macrolide antibiotic, and in patients receiving tertenadine therapy who have preexisting cardiac abnormalities or electrolyte disturbances. (Please refer to full prescribing information for clarithromycin before prescribing.)

Warnings

CLARITHROMYCIN SHOULD NOT BE USED IN PREGNANT WOMEN EXCEPT IN CLINICAL CIRCUMSTANCES WHERE NO ALTERNATIVE THERAPY IS APPROPRIATE IF PREGNANCY OCCURS WHILE TAKING CLARITHROMYCIN, THE PATIENT SHOULD BE APPRISED OF THE POTENTIAL HAZARD TO THE FETUS. (SEE WARDINGS IN PRESCRIBING INFORMATION FOR CLARITHROMYCIAL)

Pseudomembranous colitis has been reported with nearly all antibacterial agents, including ciarithromycin and amostellin, and may range in severity from mild to life threatening. Therefore, it is important to consider this diagnosis in patients who present with diarrheal subsequent to the administration of antibacterial agents.

Treatment with antibacterial agents afters the normal flora of the colon and may permit overgrowth of clostridia. Studies indicate that a toxin produced by Clostrolium difficile is a primary cause of "antibiotic-associated colors"

After the diagnosis of pseudomembranous collis has been established. therapeutic measures should be initiated. Mild cases of pseudomembranous collis usually respond to discontinuation of the drug alone. In moderate to severe cases, consideration should be given to management with fluids and electrolytes, protein supplementation, and treatment with an antibacterial drup clinically effective against Clostricium difficile colliss.

Serious and occasionally fatal hypersensitivity (anaphylactic) reactions have been reported in patients on periodin therapy. These reactions are more apt to occur in individuals with a history of pericalin hypersensitivity and/or a history of sensitivity to multiple altergers.

There have been well documented reports of individuals with a history of penicalin hypersensitivity reactions who have experienced severe hypersensitivity reactions when treated with a cephelosporin. Before initiating therapy with any penicilin, careful inquiry should be made concerning previous hypersensitively mactions to periodicis, dephalospories, and other allergers. If an allergic reaction occurs, amorbidin should be discontinued and the appropriate therapy installed.

SERIOUS ANAPHYLACTIC REACTIONS REQUIRE IMMEDIATE EMERGENCY TREATMENT WITH EPINEPHRINE DXYGEN, INTRAVENOUS STEROIDS, AND AIRWAY MANAGEMENT, INCLUDING INTUBATION, SHOULD ALSO BE ADMINISTERED AS INDICATED.

Att administering the granules, the nasogastric tube should be flushed we additional apple juice to clear the tube.

Drug Interactions

LANSOPRAZOLE SAME OF THE PARTY OF THE PARTY

Lansoprazole is metabolized through the cytochrome Paso system specifically through the CYP3A and CYP2C19 isozymes. Studies have shown that lansoprazole does not have clinically significant interactions with other drugs metabolized by the cytochrome Peso system, such as warters antipyrine, indomethacin, ibuprofen, phenytoin, propranolol, prednisore diazepam, clarithromycin, or terfenadine in healthy subjects. These compounds are metabolized through various cytochrome Paso isozymis Including CYP1A2, CYP2C9, CYP2C19, CYP2D6, and CYP3A, When tansoprazole was administered concomitantly with theophylline (CYP1A) CYP3A), a minor increase (10%) in the clearance of theophylline was seen Because of the small magnitude and the direction of the effect or theophyline distrance, this interaction is unlikely to be of clinical concern

Nonetheless, individual patients may require additional triration of their theophy are dosage when lansoprazole is started or stopped to ensure clinically effective blood in a single-dose crossover study examining lansoprazole 30 mg and omeprazole 20 mg each administered alone and concomitantly with sucraffate 1 gram, absorption of the proton pump inhibitors was delayed and their bioavailability was reduced by 17% and 16%, respectively when administered concomitantly with sucraffate. Therefore, proton purity inhibitors should be taken at least 30 minutes prior to sucralifate. In clinical trials, antacids were administered concornitantly with PREVACID Delayed-Release Capsules; this did not interfere with its effect.

Lansoprazole causes a profound and long-tasting inhibition of gastric and secretion; therefore, it is theoretically possible that lansoprazole may interfere with the absorption of drugs where gastric pH is an important determinant of bioavailability (eg. ketoconazole, ampicillin esters, iron salts, digoxin)

Carcinogenesis, Mutagenesis, Impairment of Fertility

In two 24-month carcinogenicity studies, Sprague-Dawley rats were treated orally with doses of 5 to 150 mg/kg/day, about 1 to 40 times the expos # on a body surface (mg/m²) basis, of a 50-kg person of average height (1.46 mt body surface area) given the recommended human dose of 30 mg/tay (22.2 mg/m²). Lansoprazole produced dose-related gas v enterochromaffin-like (ECL) cell hyperplasia and ECL cell carcinoids in but male and female rats. It also increased the incidence of intestinal metaple = of the gastric epithelium in both sexes. In male rats, tansoprazole produced a dose related increase of testicular interstitial cell adenomas. The incide of of these adenomas in rats receiving doses of 15 to 150 mg/kg/day (4 to 4) times the recommended human dose based on body surface area) excerc id the low background incidence (range = 1.4 to 10%) for this strain of = Testicular interstitial cell adenoma also occurred in 1 of 30 rats treated v 50 mg/tg/day (13 times the recommended human dose based on b surface area) in a 1-year toxonly study.

In a 24-month carcinogenicity study, CD-1 mice were treated orally v = doses of 15 to 600 mg/kg/day, 2 to 80 times the recommended human o based on body surface area. Lansoprazole produced a dose-reb st increased incidence of gastric ECL cell hyperplasia. It also produced an increased incidence of liver turnors (hepatocellular adenoma (5 carcinoma). The tumor incidences in male mice treated with 300 - 0 600 mg/kg/day (40 to 80 times the recommended human dose based of body surface area) and female mice treated with 150 to 600 mg/kg/day to 80 times the recommended human dose based on body surface at 1 exceeded the ranges of background incidences in historical controls for strain of mice. Lansoprazole treatment produced adenoma of rete testi male mice receiving 75 to 600 mg/kg/day (10 to 80 times the recomment at human dose based on body surface area).

Nursing Mothers

Lansoprazole or its metabolites are excreted in the milk of rats. It is not known whether lansoprazole is excreted in human milk. Because many drugs are excreted in human milk because of the potential for serious adverse reactions. in nursing infants from lansoprazole, and because of the potential for turnongenicity shown for lansoprazole in rat carbinogenicity studies, a decision should be made whether to discontinue nursing or to discontinue the drug, taking into account the importance of the drug to the mother.

Safety and effectiveness in pediatric patients have not been established.

Use in Women

Over 800 women were treated with lansoprazole. Ulcer healing rates in females were similar to those in males. The incidence rates of adverse events were also similar to those seen in males.

Use in Geriatric Patients

Ulder healing rates in elderly patients are similar to those in a younger age group. The incidence rates of adverse events and laboratory test abnormalities are also similar to those seen in younger patients. For elderly patients, dosage and administration of fansoprazole need not be aftered for a particular indication.

ADVERSE REACTIONS

Worldwide, over 6100 patients have been treated with lansoprazole in Phase. 2-3 clinical trats involving various dosages and durations of treatment. In general, lansoprazole treatment has been well tolerated in both short-term and long-term trais.

The following adverse events were reported by the treating physician to have a possible or probable relationship to drug in 1% or more of PREVACID-treated patients and occurred at a greater rate in PREVACIDtreated patients than placebo-treated patients:

Incidence of Possibly or Probably Treatment-Related Adverse Events in Short-term.

Headache was also seen at greater than 1% incidence but was more common on placebo. The incidence of diarrhea was similar between patients who received placebo and patients who received lansoprazole 15 mg and 30 mg, but higher in the patients who received tansoprazole 60 mg (2.9%, 1.4%, 4.2%, and 7.4%, respectively).

The most commonly reported possibly or probably treatment-related adverse event during maintenance therapy was diarrhea.

Combination Therapy with Amoxicillin and Clarithromycin in clinical trials using combination therapy with PREVACID plus amosocilin. and clarithromycin, and PREVACIO plus amovicilin, no adverse reactions peculiar to these drug combinations were observed. Adverse reactions that have occurred have been limited to those that had been previously reported with PREVACID, amountain, or clarithromycin.

Triple Therapy: PREVACID/amoxicilin/clanthromycin

The most frequently reported adverse events for patients who received triple therapy for 14 days were diarrises (7%), headache (6%), and taste perversion (5%). There were no statistically significant differences in the frequency of reported adverse events between the 10- and 14-day triple therapy regimens. No treatment-emergent adverse events were observed at significantly higher rates with triple therapy than with any dual therapy regimen.

Dual Therapy: PREVACID/amonicilin

The most frequently reported adverse events for patients who received PREVACID t.i.d. plus amodocilin t.i.d. dual therapy were diarrhea (8%) and headache (7%). No treatment-emergent adverse events were observed at significantly higher rates with PREVACID tild plus amovicillin tild dual therapy than with PREVACID alone.

For more information on adverse reactions with amoxicillin or clarithromycin, refer to their package inserts. ADVERSE REACTIONS sections.

Laboratory Values

The following changes in laboratory parameters for lansoprazole were reported as adverse events:

Abnormal liver function tests, increased SGOT (AST), increased SGPT (ALT), increased creatinine, increased alkaline phosphatase, increased globulins, increased GGTP, increased/decreased/abnormal WBC, abnormal AG ratio, abnormal RBC, bilirubinemia, eosinophilia, hyperlipemia, increased/ decreased electrolytes, increased/decreased cholesterol increased glucocorticoids, increased LDH, increased/decreased/abnormal platelets, and increased gastrin levels. Additional isolated laboratory abnormalities

In the placebo controlled studies, when SGOT (AST) and SGPT (ALT) were evaluated, 0.4% (1/250) placebo patients and 0.3% (2/795) lansoprazole patients had enzyme elevations greater than three times the upper limit of normal range at the final treatment visit. None of these patients reported jaundice at any time during the study.

In clinical trials using combination therapy with PREVACID plus amost clim and clarithromycin, and PREVACID plus amoxicitin, no increased laboratory abnomizations particular to these drug combinations were observed.

For more information on laboratory value changes with amovicilist or clarithromycln, refer to their package inserts, ADVERSE REACTIONS section.

OVERDOSAGE

Oral doses up to 5000 mg/kg in rats (approximately 1300 times the recommended human dose based on body surface area) and mice (about 675.7 times the recommended human dose based on body surface area) did not produce deaths or any clinical signs.

Lansoprazole is not removed from the circulation by hemodialysis. In one reported case of overdose, the patient consumed 600 mg of lansoprazole with no adverse reaction.

The 2000 MTV Video Music Awards airs Thursday, September 7, 8 P.M./ET, on MTV. IT'S THE MOST OUTRAGEOUS VIDEO MUSIC AWARDS UNPREDICTABLE NIGHT IN MUSIC, AND WE'VE GOT YOUR EXCLUSIVE SNEAK PREVIEW-FROM HIP HOSTS MARLON AND SHAWN WAYANS Wayans's TO INTERVIEWS WITH TOP world: Marion NOMINEES CHRISTINA AGUILERA (left) and METALLICA SISQÓ AND N SYNC Shawa get ready to rock.

ude, the last time it was cool to attend an awards show was...oh, no one remembers. Parents watch those, for heaven's sake. At the MTV Video Music Awards, on the other hand, you can defy both style and gravityas Cyndi Lauper did in 1984 (see "The Way We Were," page 22). Or bring along a porn star to accept your award—the way Slash from Guns N' Roses did in 1988. You can even reveal secrets—as Ben Stiller did in 1998. (He was once a Backstreet Boy!)

Naturally, video stars and other celebs will clamor this September 7 for admittance to Radio City Music Hall, where they will be beamed to 85 countries and more than 300 million viewers. "It's a really diverse crowd," says five-time winner Will Smith. "Jim Carrey sitting next to Erykah Badu...

It hasn't always happened here, either. In 1984, when MTV began doling out moon men for video excellence, Michael Jackson didn't bother to collect his three for "Thriller." But what that first show did have was a brazen irreverence toward proper ceremony

THE WAYANS BROTHERS SOUND OFF ON LIL' KIM, N SYNC AND VIDEOS THEY LOVE

After the teen slasher spoof "Scary Movie" became the comedy hit of the summer, Shawn and Marion Wayans (above), who star in and cowrote the movie, were invited to host the MTV Video Music Awards. TV Guide caught up with Marlon, 28, and Shawn, 29, as they were brainstorming about how to take on the music industry.

of the Wayans family, you think satire. Will you be spoofing music videos? MARLON: We'll definitely do some parody. The object is to keep the show funny and moving. So people at home and in the audience won't be saying, "Please kil me and get me out of this." TVG: You're also writing sketches. What's that like? SHAWN: Lock yourself in a room with a couple of guys you think are funny, and y'all come up with different things.

TVG: How long does it take to come up with a good idea

SHAWN: Sometimes you're in that room all day, all night and you don't get that good idea. Eventually you'll break through.

TVG: Have you gone to the Video Music Awards before? SHAWN: Once. But we couldn't see the show because people dress weird. They wear big hats and crazy loud outfits.

TVG: Speaking of dressing weird, will you have costume changes?

MARLON: We don't change clothes in real life. Y'all [women] change two or three times a day. I wash my hands in the morning, and I'm through.

TVG: Any surprise guests you want to bring on? SHAWN: You can't bring surprise guests on. There are no surprises on MTV. MARLON: Lil' Kim wore her breast out last year. We weren't surprised at that. SHAWN: We were just disappointed that she didn't show two.

TVG: Last year Chris Rock poked fun at the audience with jokes about Jennifer Lopez's butt and Britney Spears's lip-synching. Are you planning to single anyone out?

MARLON: Chris was very funny. But I know he didn't show up at the after-party. SHAWN: And Jennifer Lopez's butt was waiting for him.

TVG: Do you watch the Video Awards every year?

SHAWN: How could you not? They play it a hundred times. They're still showing last year's show.

TVG: What makes a good video?

MARLON: A breast makes a great video.

SHAWN: It's how you show the breast.

MARLON: I really like the way Michael Jackson did videos. It was like an event. There was a story. "Thriller" was a great video, my all-time favorite.

TVG: Do you remember how you reacted when you first saw it?

SHAWN: I was scared to walk through a graveyard at night by myself.

TVG: As kids, were you big fans of MTV?

SHAWN: No, because in the beginning, videos didn't make sense. It was like watching somebody's bad dream with music.

TVG: What's the sexiest video you've ever seen? MARLON: Any Janet Jackson video.

TVG: Have you met her? SHAWN: We've met her and Michael.

TVG: Are you friends? SHAWN: No. I met Michael when I was working at FAO Schwarz in New York City. I was 15 years old, and he came in the store. He was buying a bunch of toys. I was screaming, "Michael!" I made him laugh. And then I almost got fired.

TVG: For talking to him?

SHAWN: Yeah, It wasn't him that almost got me fired. It was my boss. You know how they start doing their job way too well. TVG: The big trend in music is teen pop... MARLON: I can't tell the difference between who is who.

TVG: So you couldn't tell Mandy Moore and Jessica Simpson apart?

MARLON: No idea.

TVG: Backstreet Boys and 'N Sync...

MARLON: I know 'N Sync because I met them. And they're all cool guys. But before that I just (saw) five white guys dancing offbeat. TVG: Will you work boy bands into your humor? MARLON: We don't want to offend anybody. 'Cuz we want to go to the party. We don't want to hear on the news, "Marlon Wayans gets his butt kicked by 'N Sync." SHAWN: They wouldn't kick his butt. They'd just lipsynch kickin' his butt. TVG: If Christina Aguilera and Britney Spears get in a fight, will you break it up?

MARLON: I enjoy watching girls fight.

SHAWN: Why would they fight?

TVG: There are rumors they don't like each other. SHAWN: I like to hear stuff like that. After all these years of brothers fighting in hip-hop, it's good to hear about a little white-onwhite crime. -Janet Weeks

Butt jokes aside, the VMAs are arguably the most realistic benchmark for the current state of pop music. Remember when the "alternative" genre went mainstream, circa 1996? The Smashing Pumpkins won Best Video that year, with Beck and Alanis Morissette nabbing the Best Male and Female awards. The Pumpkins have since disbanded, with lead singer Billy Corgan noting, "It's hard to keep trying to fight the good fight against the Britneys."

Christina Aguilera is hugging her knees, wriggling her navy-nailed toes and playing the "either/or" game. Marry a masseur...or a gourmet chef? "Masseur," she answers, giggling. "And I'll buy him a cookbook!" Dinner and a movie... or dancing all night? "Dinner and movie, for sure. And probably for him, too," she says, referring to her boyfriend, adancer on her concert tour. "He says it's not fun going to a club with your girlfriend. And I'm like,

Excuse me! So you want to pick up chicks, huh?"" Winking a sky blue-shadowed eye, she grins playfully.

So, who's this boyfriend? Aguilera halts. "We love each other dearly," she admits. "But I'd rather not speak about him. For the people that don't already know [his name], I don't want to let them know." She's being very optimistic; if you've queued up at the supermarket lately, you know his name is Jorge Santos. But she does have reason to hoist the red flag. Of all the pop-singing graduates of Disney's All-New Mickey Mouse

THE GRAMMY-WINNING CHRISTINA AGUILERA SINGS LIKE AN ANGEL, BUT HAS A DEVIL OF AN IMAGE

Pinice power: Aquilera sings at MTV's 2 Large nillennium party.

Club cast-including Britney Spears and two 'N Sync members-Aguilera, 19, is the one most likely to end up in the National Enquirer.

"Christina has a more suggestive edge," explains Chuck Taylor, senior writer at Billboard magazine. The mildly naughty hits from her self-titled debut-"Genie in a Bottle," "What a Girl Wants," "Come on Over Baby (All I Want Is You)"-are nationwide slumber-party anthems. But Hollywood scuttlebutt has also pegged her as the diva ice queen to Spears's pop princess, with the two going at each other tooth and manicured nail. She's been linked, tabloidstyle, to a panoply of MTV idols, among them Carson Daly, Enrique Iglesias and Limp Bizkit's Fred Durst. And the rapper Eminem has even set to rhyme accusations of her promiscuity with some of those people, himself included. In the squeaky-clean universe of teen pop, Aguilera is very much the rock star.

She looks the part, even on this rare day off, curled up on an new West Hollywood apartment. At size 0 and 5-foot-2, she's like a teensy, delicate doll-only it's the one your rascally older brother got his hands on. Her tousled hair is streaked red. blond and blue. The bottom half of her white tank top, which reads COWBOY, has been sliced off-leaving it no chance whatsoever to meet her black Adidas exercise pants. She does speak her mind: "It's not my job to parent America," she says in reply to criticism from the role-model police. But the girl talk she dispenses between sips of a Starbucks iced coffee is hardly scandalous.

Today, at least, she is not the impish sprite portrayed on the cover of July's Rolling Stone, which captured her licking her lips and hoisting down her unbuttoned denim cutoffs. And she is genuinely distressed by the accompanying story "I thought for sure that article was gonna be OK," she says. "I just wish [the reporter] didn't try to portray me as being such a bad girl. I read it. and I was scared. I thought, 'What are people going to think?' " The worst of it was a sarcastic quote she made about a radio DJ's preference for her music over Spears's. It was jokingly provoked, she saysthen misconstrued. "Out of everybody in the world right now, I think Britney would be a really great friend for me," she says.

Together, the pair generally hold down the female end of today's pop-music seesaw (across from 'N Sync and the Backstreet Boys). Both teens dress to let their bellies breathethus both have been accused of using Lolita tactics to sell CDs. "I basically shoot it down with, 'Whatever I do, it's my business," says Aguilera, "Britney tries to deny it a little bit. And think she has nothing to be ashamed of."

But the similarities between the two singe 5 end there. While Spear upbringing was relatively Disney-sweet, Aguilera 5 was soured by domest c violence. "We lived on army bases," she says of her early life, when he father, Sgt. Fausto Aguilera, moved his family—wife Shelly and daughters Christina and Rachel, now 14—from Texas to New Jersey to Japan. "A lot of drama went on in our house," says Aguilera. "Having to see someone you love so much [her mother] go through it... the bruises will fade, but latest video,

"Come on Over Baby (Alf I Want is You)"

you still have those memories."
(Shelly separated from

when Christina was 5, and now lives with her second husband, paramedic Jim Kearns, in Wexford, Pennsylvania.) Aguilera dodged that early anguish as best she could—by singing in her bedroom. Ever since, says Shelly, "She's had a lemonade-out-of-lemons mentality."

Nowadays, it's lemonade with bite. "She's going to be to this generation what Celine Dion and Barbra Streisand were to their generations," says director Matt Casella, who cast her in the Mouse Club at age 12. At 18, after signing with RCA, she released her first album. Christina Aguilera, which sold over seven million copies and snagged her a Grammy this year for Best New Artist. The CD is jammed with sex-tinged, girl-power messages.

"Coming from a situation like [witnessing] domestic abuse," says Aguilera, "you're not wanting to be weak or vulnerable. I definitely have become a stronger person out of it." Making her debut six months after pop sweetheart Spears, she has had to summon that strength. "I think RCA would have loved to have Sweetheart No. 2," says Aguilera. "But if it were up to me, I would have [already] gone in a more soul and R&B direction."

In that sense, she can empathize with her MTV nemesis, Eminem. "I understand how he's trying to separate himself from the whole pop scene," she says of his hit "The Real Slim Shady," which also takes aim at Spears and boy bands in general. But Eminem reserved special vitriol for Aguilera, who angered him when she voiced concern on MTV about one of his other songs, which made light of spousal abuse. "I could look past the fact that, you know, he's a little touchy about domestic violence," she says, laughing. "But [the raunchy lyrics] are a bunch of bull."

As for her allegedly jam-packed dating schedule, Aguilera is equally unruffled. "I've hung out with these people, for sure," she says. "Carson and I have had a few good times together. Enrique was sweet whenever I was in Miami. We went out a couple of times." But even without the press interfering, she says, "It's really hard to maintain a relationship, because I'm trying to be so focused on my career." Aside from completing her 37-city tour, she has a Spanish-language album, Mi Reflejo, slated for September release—as well as a Christmas album and an accompanying holiday TV special. And there are always more music videos to film. Asked to describe her current one, director Paul Hunter reflects for a moment. "I shot it," he replies, "like she's a rock star." Needless to say, she pulled it off.

ONETIME qualities, which describe not only the music they play but also their lifestyle. As PIONEERS the headliners of the late-July Chicago Motor Speedway concert called Rockfest, METALLICA Metallica are set to perform on a stage above the racing oval where Kid Rock now TRYING TO sings to more than 50,000 sun-streaked zealots. Metallica normally play large arenas, but earlier this summer they got loud in a new forum—the U.S. Senate, where, on July 11, drummer Lars Ulrich testified to stop Napster, the Web site that allows fans to download CDs through their computers. Metallica sued the Web site for copyright infringement and racketeering.

Sitting in a trailer backstage, singer-guitarist James Hetfield defends the band's position. We've worked hard, 20 years, to control our master recordings," Hetfield says. While Metallica encourage fans to trade homemade recordings of live concerts ("It's a keepsake," Hetfield notes), they don't want their studio recordings to be available for free, "We love new technology, but the intellectual properties have to be addressed," Hetfield continues.

"This is not a hobby. This is what we've dedicated our lives to."

By taking the lead in trying to shut down Napster, Metallica have leapt into the fire.

ROCK ARE NOW STOP A MUSIC REVOLUTION

"We kinda like arguing with people," admits Hetfield. Why have so many music fans embraced Napster? "Because they're lazy bastards, and they want everything for free," Hetfield cracks.

Metallica have earned their superstardom. Hetfield, guitarist Kirk Hammett, bassist Jason Newtation and melodic appeal.

Yet for all the band's success, Hetfield is an uneasy member of the rock establishment. A bigshouldered Californian, he craves adventure; he owns guns, hunts, rides a custom Harley and jetskis. He loved filming the "I Disappear" video because he lived out a macho fantasy, driving a fast car "without cops chasing me." Says the singer: "I'm Steve McQueen in 'Bullitt,' dude." A tattoo on his left shoulder reads *Carpe diem baby," surrounded by flames, in recognition of the August 1992 show when a pyrotechnics explosion ignited the left side of his body, requiring a year of physical therapy. "That tattoo reminds me: You are alive. Take advantage of the day."

Mrich on Capitol

III with Hank Burry

To Hetfield, Metallica's assault on Napster is consistent with the band's rabble-rousing nature. They've defied metal etiquette by writing ballads. They recorded 1999's S&M with a symphony orchestra. "We haven't been afraid to break the rules of the heavy-metal school." Hetfield says. "There's no rearview mirror in the Metallica van."

When Metallica began in Los Angeles, 19 years ago, "We were very much the outcasts," says Lars Ulrich, backstage at the Speedway. A Danish citizen, Ulrich had moved to the States to become a professional tennis player, but his love of roaring rock prevailed He met Hetfield through a newspaper ad in the spring of 1981, and they began to play in a style more raw than L.A.'s reigning band, Van Halen They named themselves Metallica, so there would be no doubt what kind of music they played, and moved to San Francisco But when they put a ballad, "Fade to Black," on their second album, Ride the Lightning, fans accused them of selling out Hetfield recalls. Before releasing Load in 1996 they cut their hair and were accused of getting trendy, as though using hair gel was a hard-rock sin. After that, Ulrich s: 58 "I realized that I hated heavy-metal clichés."

Still, through the ye as Metallica became kno vit as the smart metal bar "I hate it," Hetfield say of the reputation. "Hile? to not think."

BY JENNIFER GRAHAM

It is important, when spending time with singer Sisqó, to understand some key words in the lexicon of his crew. First of all, crew. That's his tight set of friends (aka dogs), who are here with him this June day in Phoenix—a stopover on his tour as the opening act for 'N Sync. His crew includes Kidd (his cousin) and his longtime dog, Make It Hot, both of whom rap onstage with him. Also present are bodyguard Rich Brown, manager Kenneth Crear and righthand man C. All are here in large part because of an ode to sexy lingerie: "Thong Song." The smash hit, released last April, turned the singer into a-and here's another indispensable word-player. Inside black stretch limousine that is ferrying Sisqó between radio station appearances, the 24-year-old R&B star patiently defines the term. "Every pretty girl has a set of rules," he says. "Cars they don't get into. Guys they won't talk to. If you can get 'em to do what they normally wouldn't do, you're a player." The limo turns into the parking lot of the urban music station, Power 92, but Sisqó calls out, "Yo, stop the car!" A flaxen-haired preteen is nearly convulsing at the entrance—and not because of the 108-degree heat. She desperately wants Sisqó to sign her thong.

Sisqo flings open the door while the car is still moving. Jumping out and hurrying to the girl, he signs her underwear (which, thankfully, she is not wearing), while her proud father looks on. "Getting females to like "Thong Song," Sisqo says matter-offactly, "was the ultimate player move."

True enough. When the song became ubiquitous last spring, Sisqó became one of pop music's hottest new voices. On MTV's viewer-voted video countdown, Total Request Live—where the hip-hop songs rarely climb over the sugar-pop ones-"Thong Song" wiggled its way straight to the top, pushing Sisqo's Unleash the Dragon CD up the sales charts. To date, more than five million copies have been sold. Now the singer hosts his own MTV dance com-

Performing for both, Sisqó dresses in lots of primary-colored leather and rhinestones, though he's currently sporting an XXL royal blue T-shirt and matching outsize shorts, with fresh-from-the-factory white Nikes.

It is hard to imagine that this is the same Sisqó who, just eight years ago, was at a crossroads, literally. "You may be familiar with HBO's The Corner," says Sisqó, referring to the miniseries about a

Terms of the Settlement

Under the proposed voluntary settlement. Nine West has agreed to pay the Plaintiff States the total sum of $34 million, and has agreed to an injunction which prohibits future violations of the antitrust laws and requires notification to Nine West Dealers that they are free to price Nine West Products independently.

In view of the difficulty in identifying the millions of purchasers of Nine West Products and the relatively small alleged overcharge per pair of shoes purchased, the Plaintiff States have proposed utilizing the $34 million settlement amount in the following manner:

An amount not to exceed $3.5 million of the settlement fund will be used to administer the settlement. This amount includes an award of attorneys' fees and costs incurred by the Attorneys General of the Plaintiff States of not more than $1.6 million, representing 4.7% of the total each value of the settlement.

The remaining $30.5 million or more shall be allocated among the Plaintiff States according to each State's percentage share of the cumulative population of the Plaintiff States. Each Plaintiff State's share shall be distributed to that State, a political subdivision thereof, a not-for-profit corporation and/or a charitable organization to fund women's health, educational, vocational, and safety programs. In this manner the class of purchasers covered by the lawsuit (persons who bought Nine West women's footwear) would benefit from the settlement funds.

The proposed settlement must be finally approved by the Court, which has preliminarily approved the settlement.

Your Rights

If you are a citizen of one of the Plaintiff States and you bought any of the following brands of women's footwear between January 1, 1988 and July 31, 1999, your rights against Nine West and retailers are affected by this Settlement: Nine West, Enzo Angiolini, Easy Spirit, Bandolino, Calico, Evan-Picone, Capezio, Joyce, Amalfi, 9 & Co., Pappagallo, Selby, Westies, or cK/Calvin Klein.

If you fit the above description, you may remain a member of the group of consumers represented by the Plaintiff States or you may opt out. As a member, you need do nothing, but you will be bound by all orders of the Court and your claims against Nine West and retailers relating to the conduct alleged in this action will be resolved and released. As a member, you may object to the proposed settlement or the fee and cost provisions thereof by getting a copy of the more detailed notice (see below) and sending in your written objections according to its directions, postmarked by October 16, 2000

How I ost 54 pounds it was unbewithout dieting or medication in less than 6 weeks!

(and since I haven't gained a single ounce back!)

Everyone in my family tends to gain weight easily. And I'm certainly no exception to that rule!

left my parents' home at ■ the age of 22 and moved into a studio apartment near work. As I was living alone for the first time, I paid close attention to what I was eating. Especially because of the effects of my mother's good cooking were starting to appear on my figure! At home, I made light meals along the lines of yogurt, apples and grains. From time to time. I'd make a treat, such as when friends came over for dinner. Still, I was able to maintain my ideal weight.

The tendency to gain weight got hold of me!

I got married at 25, and was expecting my first child a year later... I was always hungry and so, to soothe my conscience, I'd say "Go ahead, you're eating for two now!" So I'd cook elaborate meals for my husband and, because he came home for lunch during the week, we were having two large meals a day.

Of course, after eating at that pace, I began to gain weight! Even after my child was born, I continued to gain instead of losing weight - at a rate of about 2 pounds each month.

This turn of events didn't put me in a particularly good mood, and my husband kept telling me "Just eat less if gaining weight upsets you so much." But how can someone resist such delicious good food? I couldn't persuade myself to cut back. And because I was staying at home to care for my little girl, I was constantly tempted to snack between meals. A cookie here, a bit of cheese there. And I continued to gain weight.

Then I started trying everything, except...

Discouraged, I started trying all the tricks, appetite suppressants, creams, diets and medications. Fads came and went and I had spent a fortune with no result. Sometimes I managed to lose 5-6 pounds, but after having stopped, I would gain back what I had lost, and sometimes even more. The situation was almost comical.

The situation stopped being funny when I reached the shocking weight of 174 pounds (I'm 5'2")—more than pleasantly plump. I was depressed and I didn't know how to lose the excess weight that was spoiling my life...

I wanted to try this famous weight-loss plan that everyone in talking about...

I had read surprising articles lose weight who hadn't had a of a young woman in whom recognized a little bit of mye. Just like me, she had gained at of weight during and after pre normal daily routine nancy. But thanks to this pla she managed to lose 35 pour. in 4 weeks.

However, as I was pretty ske tical of all these kinds of weigh loss plans and treatments. Lee half-believed that this plan was work. In any event, I wash to see me lose weight so ing anything by trying the pla quickly! because I would be refunded a deprive myself of all that! So I ate along with the others, and I had lost 2 pounds! It was unbelievable! And very encouraging!

The way my weight loss corresponded to the woman's story in the newspaper article was very surprising! She had said that she lost 8 to 10 pounds per week, on average, and that was the case for me!

Already 9 pounds in one short week

I was stunned to see how I'd lost weight so quickly. So I followed the weight-loss plan very plan that really helped peer carefully... It was very simple: every morning, afternoon and success before. I read the ster evening. I took the amount indicated of plant macerat before each meal, and then I ate normally and went about my

The pounds started to melt away and in one week, I lost more than 9 pounds. And even better, because I didn't have to change my habits. I could eat anything I wanted.

My husband was thrilled

After that, everything happened quickly. I weighed myself every two days and each time I saw that I was still losing weight! Furthermore, my clothes were starting to really be too big. Two weeks later, I had reached 154 pounds. My husband couldn't believe his eyes He saw me eat normally every following a strict diet while and day and yet he could see the weight loss for himself! I showed him my "secret" and he thought it was just extraordinary

The third week, I lost no less than 13 pounds!

That's the week when I lost the most weight. I couldn't get over it. What's more, because I wasn't on a diet, I was still in great shape! I wasn't tired from losing all that weight. Quite the opposite, I felt invigorated continued to follow the weight-loss plan steadily. The hardest part was those last few pounds. But after only 6 weeks, I had reached the weight that I wanted-that is, 120 pounds. I had lost 54 pounds in a month and a half.

For me, this was a miracle!

The first person to be thrilled with these results was my husband. He's taken a renewed romantic interest in me.. He often takes me in his arms and shows me how much he loves my body. He's at least as proud of my accomplishments as I am.

As far as I'm concerned, I've overcome a hardship and regained a certain zest for life. I often catch myself humming can hardly believe that I looked like this not too long ago. Today I hardly recognize myself."

happily when I'm working around the house. It's been quite a long time since that's happened to me!

And even more surprising is the fact that I haven't regained a single ounce since starting the weight-loss plan. My weight has stabilized at what really is my ideal weight of 120 pounds. And I can still eat whatever I want without any danger of gaining the weight back.

It's possible for you to lose 8 to 10 pounds per week!

By following the simple instructions for the weight-loss plan, just as I did, you will start to lose weight immediately. You could lose 8 to 10 pounds per week, easily, just until you attain your ideal weight. And you won't gain the weight back afterwards, because your weight will have reached its equilibrium. You'll remain thin, and no one will believe you ever had any problem with your weight before You'll be proud of your figure and you'll see how that improves your overall mood. You'll be more joyful, more sure of yourself - like you're ready to climb mountains!

And you won't suffer from any of the "snacking emergencies" that are the number one enemy of people obsessed with dieting. There's really a new life that begins when you're thin

Chantal Legrand (Please, turn over ...) "Some people have lost 13 pounds the first week"

Question: How can some example, if you are 5'3", your ideal transform calones. You'll have plants help people lose weight while they still eat normally?

Answer: Recent experiments have shown that the extract of the 16 plants, when combined together, can reverse the effect of calones. In other words, instead of transforming calones into fat, the calories are instead consumed and eliminated by natural means. This combination of plant extracts constitutes a weight-loss plan that facilitates what is probably the fastest weight loss ever observed from an entirely natural

If you weigh metabolism of one of those : 140 pounds and you want to lose ple who can eat all they 30 pounds, drink 15 drops of each without gaining an ounce vial with a large glass of water before breakfast, lunch and dinner. As you'll see, unlike other methods or diets you might have tried, you can continue to eat normally. There are no restrictions, and because of this, faiure to achieve and maintain your desired weight is practically impossible. In effect, this weight-loss plan requires

No special effort

- No dieting

No strenuous exercise

Question: What plants are used?

Answer: The weight-loss plant is composed of the extracts of 16 different plants, each with their own specific effects. In other words, each affects different parts of the body.

Some are diuretics while others, such as cardamorn, act on the body's reserves of stored fat, transforming them into energizing

"Looking cute, sugar!" 'N Sync's Chris Kirkpatrick whoops. "Does your momma let you walk around like that? Looking ghetto fabulous!"

Kirkpatrick's you-go-girl routine is directed at Lance Bass, who's livening up some prephoto shoot downtime by strutting around in bad-boy threads: first a pair of spangled, ripped, derriere-revealing denims, then a cowboy hat and brown chaps ensemble that's part "Midnight Cowboy" and part Calvin Klein ad.

"You should just wear the chaps," says Joey Fatone, leaning his head back so a stylist can remove the stubble that's sprouted up around his trademark goatee. "They may say we're clean-cut boys," Fatone says, smirking, "but not clean-shaven."

And not always pure of mind, either: One chair over from Fatone, Justin Timberlake may or may not be enjoying his red leather trousers, which are a lesson in style over comfort. "These pants are so tight," the curly-haired heartthrob

Cracks, "it's like I'm having sex with myself."

Yes, the guys of 'N Sync are definitely fun to be around—even when they should be dog-tired. After all, the Orlando-based singing group—Timberlake, 19; Bass, 21; Fatone, 23; JC Chasez, 24, and Kirkpatrick, 28—is at the tail end of a 52-city North American tour. Last night they performed before a 40,000-plus audience at Foxboro Stadium outside Boston, and in just a few hours, they're going to do it all over again. More than ond CD, smashed records for both first-day (approximately one million) and first-week (2.4 million) sales. Six months ago, 'N Sync were merely stars; now they can lay claim to the title of biggest pop group in the country.

Success, of course, breeds activity. This fall the band will continue its North American tour, release an IMAX concert film and start work on a new record, with all five members taking a more active part in songwriting and producing.

'N Sync is also working on a movie, but before any critics start digging up their reviews of "Spiceworld" for possible recycling, consider this: The band will not be playing themselves, and the film won't necessarily feature any music. "We're actually going to make a real movie," Bass says. "We want to challenge ourselves to do something different."

Somewhere in there the boys are due to get a week's vacation, too. But first comes the 2000 MTV

Video Music Awards.
'N Sync got six nominations, including Best Video of the Year and Viewer's Choice for their "Bye, Bye, Bye" video.
They will also perform on the show, which means the pressure is on to top last year's appearance with Britney Spears.

"It was definitely fun performing with Britney," says Timberlake, who is reportedly dating Spears. "I'd do it again."

As in Oops!... I'd Do It Again? Don't get your hopes up. "I wouldn't expect Britney to turn up again," Bass says. "But maybe Eminem—you never know."

Ah, yes. Eminem's "The Real Slim Shady"—which includes 'N Sync among the many, many things that annoy him—has also been nominated for six awards. Still, all the members of 'N Sync are huge Eminem fans. "Love him," Timberlake says. "He's a supertalented artist."

While Eminem would like to think that he and 'N Sync are operating in different cultural worlds,

'N Sync at New York City's Madison Square Garden in July

the truth is that they're hitting much the same audience. "That's the cool thing about music right now," Chasez says. "People are a lot more open-minded, People are listening to rap, rock—it's just not trends anymore. Hopefully, that makes way for a longer career for us."

Tom Calderone, MTVs senior vice president of music programming and talent, thinks 'N Sync's longevity "is going to be attained by how relevant they stay with their fan base. Right now, they can do no wrong."

Maybe not, but should No Strings Attached end up selling 10, 12 or even 14 million records, statistically speaking there's nowhere to go but down. "At this point it our career," says Timberlake, "we just want to evolve with our core audience. That's what he Stones did. That's what he lot of legends do."

The 19-year-old pauses perhaps imagining his self at Mick Jagger's a "By then," he says, "w probably won't be daining as much."

Keeping It Simple

Cara Moulton, host of the Food Network's Cooking Live and the food editor at ABC's Good Morning America, is disturbed that many new chefs are more interested in working on television than in the kitchen. "To me, we've lost sight of what's important here, which is to be a really fine chef and teacher. People think they don't have to be talented and [that] if they're cute and funny, they can be a celebrity. For the first 20 years in this business, I didn't do any television."

Moulton, 48, rose through TV's culinary ranks as an associate chef for Julia Child & More Company. Now, on Cooking Live, she has shown she can cook under television's pressure. "There is no retaping," says Moulton, who lives in New York with her husband, musicindustry consultant Bill Adler, and children Sammy, 10, and Ruthie, 14. "Mostly, I'm ad-libbing. Once on GMA, we did three one-minute tips, and it took nine hours to tape! What I love about this show is you have to take me for who I am."

SARA MOULTON'S CHOPPED SALAD

- 9 tbsp. extra virgin olive oil
- tsp. each ground cumin and paprika
- 2 6-inch pitas with pockets
- 2 tbsp. sherry-wine vinegar
- tsp. Dijon-style mustard
- 4 cups each loosely packed arugula and mesclun
- cup each chopped red and yellow pepper, quartered cherry tomatoes, chickpeas, crumbled feta, chopped dill pickles salt to taste

Preheat oven to 400° F. Combine 3 tbsp. oll, spices and salt to taste. Split each pita into two rounds and brush rough side with oil mixture. Cut into triangles and bake until crisp (about five minutes). Combine vinegar, mustard, salt to taste. Whisk in remaining oil. Combine all remaining ingredients. Add dressing and pita croutons and toss well. Serves 4.

COLIN MOCHRIE'S RICE SALAD

- 4 cups cooked brown short-grain rice
- 1/2 cup black raisins
- 1/2 yellow apple, diced into 1/2-inch cubes
- 3 thsp. sliced almonds
- 1/2 cup extra virgin olive oil juice of one lemon
- 3 garlic cloves, minced
- 3 tsp. curry powder
- 1 tsp. sait

ground pepper to taste
In a mixing bowl, combine rice, raisins, apples and almonds. In a measuring cup, combine oil, lemon, garile, curry, salt and pepper. Mix well. Pour over rice and toss to coat. Chili. Serves 8 as a side dish.

Mochrie started a decade ago on the British version of Whose Line Is It Anyway? and has been a part of the American cast since the show's ABC debut in 1998. And while he has done some straightforward acting, including guest spots on The Drew Carey Show, he says he prefers the challenges of improvisational comedy "When you're working off of a script, you have to get across the writer's ideas." he explains. "With improv, the thing I love most is that the show fails or succeeds because of us. If it stinks, it's because we're stinking—we can't blame the directors or editors. It's all us."

The actor has a similar attitude toward his role in the kitchen. "My wife hasn't cooked since 1991," says Mochric, who is married to fellow comedian Debra McGrath. "When we moved to Los Angelshe gave birth to our son [Luke, now 9], and I became a house husband. I was incredibly bored, and I asked her, 'Is the cooking thing hard, or do you just reached.

Mochrie has found a happy medium that correlates nicely with his prime-time job. "I do some improvising," he says. "Sometimes it works; sometime it doesn't. I don't get flustered. To key to both is relaxation and fur

Chasing the Mouse A FORMER ABC EXEC BRINGS "SUPER" IDEAS TO NBC It is a small world, after all. Disney-owned ABC will stage its annual, hugely successful Super Soap Weekend November to outdo ABC "by bring-Studios theme park in Orlando-with 30 stars, including Susan Lucci. But there will be more soap fans in town than the network bargained for: NBC, buoyed by great summer ratings for its serials Days of Our Lives and Passions, has decided to piggyback on the ABC event with its own fan gathering, the NBC Soap FanFest, to be held the same weekend at Orlando's Universal Studios

theme park. "Our event is complementary, not competitive," insists NBC's new bytime chief, Sheraton

Kalouria, It's been good Days who only for Peter last May Reckell and was the Alfonso. head of ABC Daytime marketing and was the muscle behind Super Soap. According to Kalouria, "Research shows a 10 to 15 percent overlap between the NBC and ABC soap audiences, so we may actually bring them more [customers]. We're not trying to squelch Super Soap in any way, though I have no idea how ABC will interpret it. I believe both events will flourish." That said, Kalouria intends 11-12 at the Disney-MGM ling 31 stars, maybe more." That's not all he has up his promotional sleeve: In September, NBC Records will release Jane French's catchy Passions theme, "Breathe," and in February, Harper-Collins will publish Hidden Passions, a juicy tell-all penned by Tabitha, the popular Passions witch played by Juliet Mills (in ABC-like synergy, viewers will see Tabitha writing the tome, conversing with her editor and embarking on a book tour).

But it's the numbers that matter most: In July, NBC—which had long trailed ABC and CBS in the key daytime demographics for women 18 to 49—became the daytime demo leader for the first time in the 13-year history of Nielsen's People Meters. And both soaps are kicking butt with teens. In early July, Passions was the mostwatched drama or comedy series among females 12 to 17 and was beaten only by three reality shows-Survivor, Who Wants to Be a Millionaire and Making the Band.

Internet interest has also been awesome: A contest in which Days fans got to decide who impregnated Hope (Kristian Alfonso) drew approxi-

Viacom-CBS Takes Over TV CORPORATE SYNERGY UNITES MTV AND 60

MINUTES GENERATIONS

The day the Viacom-CBS deal was announced, Conan O'Brien quipped that you could tell that the network of Diagnosis Murder was going to merge with the company that owns MTV because "Dan Rather read the news from a mosh pit." Now, a year after Viacom's Nickelodeon, TV Land and Showtime became part of the same family as CBS's Nashville Network (TNN) and Country Music Television (CMT), O'Brien's remark seems less a joke than an astute forecast.

At this July's Television Critics Association press

tour, CBS president and CEO Leslie Moonves pointed to a roster of joint ventures on the horizon between CBS and its cable siblings. This fall both VH1 and MTV will broadcast Bette Midler specials before her CBS series, Bette, debuts on October 4. TV Land will run a marathon of the original Fugitive to coincide with the debut of CBS's update of that classic series. And Saturday mornings on CBS will feature a programming block of such Nickelodeon tot faves as Blue's Clues and Franklin. In addition, next January, when CBS broadcasts the Super Bowl, the halftime show will be produced by MTV.

"We tried to get the Super Bowl for years but never got anywhere," says MTV president Judy McGrath. "Now we've got it. You do the math."

Amid all the crosspromotion chatter within Viacom-CBS, it's important to remember what happened at other merged media giants. When the Walt Disney Company swallowed ABC, for example, synergy produced plenty of failures, such as the attempt two years ago to make Baltimore's sports-theme restaurant, ESPN Sports Zone, the site for a Monday Night Football pregame show. In addition, some of the network's news shows went out of their way to promote company product. Last May, for example, Good Morning America devoted more than a half hour to Disney-related features (see the Robins Report, May 27, 2000). (Viacom-CBS has already shown signs of heading down the same slippery credibility slope. Last April, when MTV was hyping its "Wanna Be a VJ 3" hunt, CBS News's The Early Show thought it worthy of a seven-minute segment.)

Nowhere has the marriage of Viacom and CBS been more profoundly displayed than in the success of Survivor. To reach an audience beyond CBS's senior demo, the network relentlessly promoted the reality series on VH1 and MTV. And it was no coincidence that Jeff Probst, host of VH1's Rock & Roll Jeopardy!, was chosen to emcee Survivor. When the reality series hit, VH1 made a quick call to CBS, and Survivor: The Videos, in which the castaways talked about their favorite music videos, was born. "It has amazed me that we've been able to cross-fertilize in this short amount of time and in such an effortless way, Moonves says. "It gives all of us the opportunity to expand our audiences."

However, not every proposed Survivor gambit worked. "I would have loved to have had Survivor reruns," admits Dean Valentine, president and CEO of the Viacom-owned UPN. "But when I called Les, he said it wouldn't work because the affiliates would go crazy."

Still, Valentine says the merger is an opportunity for the struggling UPN to change its fortunes. (UPN's future is in question because of the pending sale of several of its affiliates, including New York City and Los Angeles, to News Corporation, which owns the Fox network.) This fall, according to the UPN chief, there will be a big cross-promotional campaign involving Valentine's new series and new shows on VH1. In addition, noting that WWF Smackdown! is UPN's highest-rated show, Valentine says his network will now get even more promotional clout from his cable brethren with the move of the World Wrestling Federation matches and other shows from USA Network to TNN and MTV. "We're already planning a cross-promotion effort on wrestling," says Valentine, noting that Viacom's ability to wrestle the WWF cable component away was based on the corporate parent's ability to offer exposure on multiple channels.

Meanwhile, bringing the bulk of the WWF cable package to TNN is expected to affect CMT as well. Long the poor relation to TNN, CMT is slated for a makeover under the supervision of John Sykes, now president of both VH1 and CMT. Sykes transformed VHI from the network of Michael Bolton music videos and Gallagher comedy specials to the home of Pop Up Video and Behind the Music. "CMT is a diamond in the rough," Sykes says. "Look at the crossover success of Shania Twain and Faith Hill, and it's a no-brainer how you can expand Thanksgiving.

One question remains How much synergy will Viacom-CBS demand of CBS News? Sykes says there's an ongoing dialogue with CBS News president Andrew Heyward on how the two operations can help each other-for example, Sykes suggests that the news division produce documentaries for VH1. Can Dan Rather anchoring from the mosh pit be that far behind?

SUSANSTEWN OF THIS WEEK'S NOTABLE PROGRAMS

DARIA: IS IT FALL YET? (Sun., MTV) As if brainy and bespectacled Daria Morgendorffer didn't have enough problems, it's summer and she's dating. In her first TV-movie, the animated heroine, who's not so animated, endures a romance without uttering a single term of endearment. Meanwhile, her vacuous sister Quinn endures a summer tutor and discovers she has a brain. These complex gals manage to grow without losing the qualities that define them. Daria is so smart, it makes the "real" characters on other teen shows look cartoonish.

My score (0-10): 9

CUSTODY OF THE HEART (Mon., LIF) FEL Thank heaven women have so many problems! Otherwise, what would we do for movies? In this one, Lorraine Bracco supports her family, makes school lunches and visits her ailing mother. Her competence makes husband Martin Donovan feel inadequate. So he sues for divorce, the kids and the house. If this were real life, her logical next act might be to shoot him. But this is TV, so we know she'll forgive him, move into a lighthouse (really!) and learn to love again. Heart won't win any

Time Warner Cable Manhattan Edition

Emmys, but it does show a new kind of bad marriage—and the raucous Bracco is fun to watch. My score: 7

BASH: LATTER-DAY PLAYS (Mon., SHO) MAL When plays are reproduced on TV, they often seem, well, stagy. That's not true of this scabrous piece by filmmaker Neil LaBute ("Your Friends and Neighbors"). The deceptively simple Bash consists of three dramatic monologues. In each, a character reveals a shocking secret. Calista Flockhart, Paul Rudd and Ron Eldard are great as, respectively, a psychiatric patient, an all-American boy and a Mormon businessman. They're in almost constant close-up, and you can't take your eyes off them. My score: 8

THE FALL OF NEWT GINGRICH

(Wed., PBS)* A politician campaigning: That's something you don't see much of in an election year. This documentary follows then-Speaker of the House Gingrich through the congressional election surprise of '98, when his Republican party lost six House seats despite the Lewinsky scandal. Fall goes behind the scenes, but it never feels that way, perhaps because Newt is so buttoned-down. As Trent Lott says, "Newt has a very big brain." Alas, most mortals need a heart as well. My score: 4

BECOMING DICK

(Thurs., E!) EclD You can't be a big star and regular guy at the same time. If you could, there'd be no need for first-

Wagner in Becoming Dick class airline seats. That's the basic truth on which this silly cable tale is founded. Harland Williams is Dick, a comic who plays dirty to hit pay dirt, losing everything he cares for and gaining only fame, riches and a stuffy butler (Robert Wagner). It's Arthur without Gielgud, Dudley Moore or much of a script. Dick tries, but creaky conventions and limp lines doom it from the start. My score: 2

ON TV THIS WEEK MUSIC

THE CHIEFTAINS: WATER FROM THE WELL

(Sun., A&E) The Chieftains helped popularize Celtic music by recording with the Rolling Stones and Joni Mitchell. But here they're mostly shown performing in Dublin and Sean Keane other locations in their native Ireland, "going back to the blessed well and cleansing the system" with traditional sounds, says fiddler Sean Keane. They emerge from that well refreshed to perform with such rock stars as members of Los Lobos and Van Morrison, who sings on "Star of the County Down."

BEHIND THE MUSIC

(Sun., VH1) Orphan, hustler, pimp—Ice-T came to rap with street credentials...to put it mildly. In this profile, which is not for the squeamish, the groundbreaking artist says that while most call his style gangsta rap, "I call it reality rap. It was just what I was living." Whatever you label it, his music-notably "Cop Killer"—propelled him into the middle of a debate on violent lyrics that reached all the way to George Bush's White House. And Ice-T, who now calls himself "square," is proud of his legacy. He says he broke things down "so a ghetto kid can understand what rich white people see, and so rich white people can see what ghetto kids see," which is why Chuck D describes him here as "the chief orator of what happens in the 'hood."

THE SOURCE HIP-HOP MUSIC AWARDS 2000

(Tues., UPN) Expect an all-star cast of hiphoppers to hit the stage for this awards show. Scheduled performers include Dr. Dre, Jay Z, Snoop Dogg and a guy whose controversial lyrics are drawing the kind of heat Ice-T once felt: Eminem. Many of the acts, says one of the producers, David Mays, have gone to great lengths to create something special for the show." Lil' Kim, performing with Mobb Deep, will be "flying in from the balcony onto the stage."

TODAY

BY FRED

(Fri., NBC) Tony Bennett left his heart in San Francisco, but he takes his ears wherever he goes. When he first heard singer-pianist Diana Krall, his reaction was, "Boy, this gal's a comer!" A few years and Grammys (seven for him, one for her) later, they're touring together, with a Rockefeller Plaza stop for this Today concert. Bennett can't wait: "I like to entertain people, to try and make them feel good." Singing, he says, is "a very honorable profession." But it's his listeners who are truly honored.

GREAT PERFORMANCES

(PBS) * You won't need to know opera to be enthralled by this stirring performance of "La Traviata." Verdi's tragedy benefits from the electrifying chemistry between soprano Eteri Gvazava and tenor Jose Cura and the brilliant use of Parisian settings. By presenting drama in sites such as the lush grounds of Versailles, the production delivers opera in a more TV-friendly way than an opera-house stage might allow.

*Day and time of broadcast may vary in some areas. Check TV Guide listings for details.

Sci-Fi Stunners

Hoved your article featuring sci-fi's most heavenly being: Renée O'Connor ["The Sexiest Stars in the Universe," July 29]. She not only looks great battling villains, but she also brings remarkable depth, humor and drama to the character of Gabrielle on Xena. Battle on, Renée!

Catharine M. Liddicoat Sacramento, Calif.

Putting Farscape's sexy Chiana on one of your covers was a surefire way to make me buy the issue. Yet the alien thief's figure belies her wits and genuine innocence. Thanks for shining light on the engrossing outer-space epic.

Frederick D. Weaver Washington, D.C.

Thank you for putting Katherine Heigh of Roswell on one of your covers. I think she's a very pretty, sweet and talented actress who deserves recognition.

> Daphny Taitel Wayne, N.J.

OTHERWORLDLY OMISSIONS

How could you overlook Lucy Lawless?
She should be at the top of the list.

Jennifer Kamperman Quincy, Mass.

I'm upset that Gillian Anderson and especially Kate Mulgrew didn't make the cut. Out of eight cover subjects, six were blond and two were brunet. Are redheads too hot to handle?

JoAnn Burke Forked River, N.J.

The Kids of Summer The U.S. champion faces the winner of the international bracket in the title game of the 54th annual tournament in Williamsport, Pa (Live)

Last year, the Far East representative, Osaka, Japan, captured the championship with a 5-0 shutout of Phenix City (Ala). Phenix City upset 1998 Series winner Toms River (N.J.) to win the U.S. bracket and advance to the final, but Osaka foiled Phenix City's title hopes behind Kazuki Sumiyama's dominating two-hit pitching performance. Sumiyama, who listed Mark McGwire as his favorite U.S. player, looked more like Pedro Martinez, striking out nine batters to help Osaka become the fourth Japanese learn to win the Series.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL (CC)

The Season Kicks Off Florida State (12-0 in '99) begins Imi defense of its national title against lightly regarded BYU (8-4) in the Pigskin Classic in Jacksonville. (Live)

With a pair of seniors—OB Chris Weinke and RB Travis Minor—leading the offense and DE Roland Seymour wreaking havoc on defense, the Seminoles have the talent to repeat this season. Talent, though, rates only slightly ahead of scheduling when it comes to title prospects, and FSU, as always, faces a couple of big games against state rivals Florida and Miaml. Other preseason contenders include Alabama, Michigan, Wisconsin and Nebraska, which all must navigate tougher conference schedules than FSU.

Frankie Muniz

Kevin Bacon, Diane Lane and Frankie Muniz costar in this evocative 2000 drama, based un the memoirs of Willie Morris, about the friendship between a boy and his beloved dog.

Willie (Muniz) is a shy youngster living with his parents (Bacon, Lane) in a small Mississippi town during WWII. Willie is a favorite target of local bullies, making him feel isolated and lonely. To help bolster his confidence, Willie's mother gives him a vibrant and toving dog named Skip. But Willie's chances for lasting happiness are undermined by his embittered father, who opposes having the dog in the house. The film is rated PG for strong language and violence. An ensemble cast hits most of the right notes in this charming 2000 cable film, which gives new meaning to the phrase "getting the band back together."

After the death of her husband, stoic Elizabeth (Judi Dench) decides she still has quite a bit of living to do. By happenstance, she rekindles a friendship with Patrick (lan Holm), the cross-dressing, rascally drummer from their days as an "all girl" swing band in war-torn London. In no time, the pair is traipsing about the English countryside trying to reassemble the members of the group for their first gig in 50 years. AMSTERDAM NEWS: STORIES OF BLACK AMERICA SUN. 11:30 AM

Maurice DuBois hosts this history of the 90-year-old black newspaper

"If someone looked at (the paper] 100 years from now, they might not know they were in the same city [as that depicted in other New York papers]," publisher Elinor Tatum tells students during school visits. According to Tatum, the activist publication fills an ongoing need to convey a black perspective still not fully conveyed by mainstream rivals. And former contributors such as actress Ruby Dee and author Kevin Powell (Step into a World) recall their experiences presenting that view. Also commenting are former mayor David Dinkins and publisher emeritus Wilbert "Bill" Tatum, (1.00)

Penn State vs. USC PSU coach Joe Paterno continues his march on Bear Bryant's Division I-A record for wins (323) as the Nittany Lions face the Trojans in the Kickoff Classic in East Rutherford, N.J. (Live)

Paterno is just six wins shy of Bryant's mark, but he returns only two defensive starters from last year's All-American-filled 10-3 squad Senior playmaking OB Rashard Casey and RB Eric McCoo lead the Lions' traditionally strong ground game USC (6-6 in '99) features 10 returning starters on defense and a pair of super sophs on offense in QB Carson Palmer and WR Kareem Kelly. PSU has won the last three meetings, including a 24-7 win in the '96 Kickoff Classic.

EDITORS' CHOICE

M+T DARIA: IS IT FALL YET? SUN, 7 PM (20)-0717)

The droll teenager steps out of her MTV series and into this amusing 2000 made-for-cable animated feature, in which she's hounded by summer's dog days.

If Daria had her druthers, she'd snooze until fall. Trouble is, her mom volunteers Daria's services at a touchy-feely day camp for sensitive kids. Even worse, a rift has developed between Daria and Jane over Tom-Jane's ex-beauwhom Daria is now reluctantly dating. But despite Tom's best efforts, Daria's self-deprecating cynicism threatens to sabotage their relationship. Jane, meanwhile, searches for inner peace at an art colony. Voices include Dave Grohl, Carson Daly and Bif Naked. (2:00)

WITCHBLADE (CC) FELLY SUN. 8PM 3 THI

A hip New York City policewoman uses a paranormal artifact to battle evil in this ultraviolent 2000 made-for-cable actioner. During a bullet-flying skirmish with a mob henchman, gritty cop Sara Pezzini (Yancy Butler) discovers an ancient weapon. As she gradually comes to understand the gauntlet's rich history and mysterious forces, Sara becomes an avenging angel and vows to harness its supernatural powers to end a crime lord's murderous reign. The formulaic plot is colored by stylish effects. tilt-a-whirl action and a haunting score, Based on the Top Cow comic book of the same name. Jake McCartey: David Chokachi. Gallo: Conrad Dunn. (2:00)

SummerSlam Once again, The Rock and Triple H square off in the main event of a WWF pay-per-view telecast. This time, however, they'll have some company, as "Olympic Hero" Kurt Angle joins them in a three-way dance for The Rock's WWF crown. The champ may not be the focal point though, as the two challengers have been at each other's throats recently. Angle has been at the center of Triple H's marital problems, but the '96 gold medalist claims his relationship with Helmsley's wife is strictly platonic.

Last year's main event also featured a three-way title bout, with Mankind besting Triple H and Stone Cold Steve Austin for the WWF championship. (Live) liberal Carroll O'Connor saw the U.K. sitcom Till Death Us Do Part and its bigoted Londoner he said, "We're [Americans] not the kind of people that can swallow this stuff." But soon he was playing politically incorrect Archie Bunker in the American version, All in the Family.

Stapleton, O'Connor

O'Connor's memories of battles with series producer Norman Lear highlight this latest El docu-dish. Lear also comments, as do Jean Stapleton (Edith Bunker) and Rob Reiner (Michael "Meathead" Stivic). The program also examines the classic series' phenomenal success and its metamorphosis into Archie Bunker's Place, and looks at network panic over the use of racial slurs. (2:00)

Battle at Bighorn Young guns Tiger Woods and Sergio Garcia square off in an 18-hole match-play event at Bighorn Golf Club in Indio, Cal. (Live)

Both players thrive on the head-to-head format, as evidenced by the 20-year-old Garcia's 40-4-2 record in match play and Woods' three U.S. Amateur titles, Woods, 24, also beat David Duval in a similar made-for-TV event on ABC last year. Garcia, nicknamed "El Nino," is best known for his scintillating final-round charge in the 1999 PGA Championship, where he finished second to Woods by a stroke. The winner takes home $1.1 million from a $1.5 million purse. Al Michaels, Mike Tirico and Curtis Strange report.

Denzel Washington

Denzel Washington, who starred as "Malcolm X" and played South African activist Stephen Biko in "Cry Freedom," adds to his impressive list of film biographies with this hardhitting profile.

Washington offers a striking turn as 1960s boxer Rubin "Hurricane" Carter, a middleweight contender who is imprisoned for murder Carter becomes a cause célèbre after some sympathetic believers determine that his conviction was the result of a police case 'built on forgeries and lies." Norman Jewison ("In the Heat of the Night") directed the 1999 drama, which is rated R for strong language and violence Lesra Vicellous Reon Shannon (2:35)

SCI-FI HUNKS: LOST IN SPACE?

Yes, the women were stunning, but what about the men of sci-fi? Where were Ben Browder of Farscape, Jason Behr of Roswell, Sebastian Spence of First Wave and Robert Leeshock of Earth: Final Conflict? These gentlemen are their shows' most impressive special effects.

> C.P. Davis Fort Worth, Texas

HAIL TO THE WEST WING

Martin Sheen and cast are so believable in The West Wing ["House Call," July 22] that when I see President Clinton on TV, I'm startled and think, "Who is that?" What a fine show!

> Barbara Scafferi Marshalltown, Iowa

TOP TEEN TV

I enjoyed Joanne Kaufman's "Tween Peeks" article [July 22]. In a time of endlessly cloned and mind-numbing programming, programs such as Caitlin's Way are refreshing. It's innovative, positive and smart. But I take exception to what she wrote about the "fictional" British pop band, S Club 7. There's nothing fictional about them, and SClub 7 is a hip show.

Kevin Blanco Dallas

Correction: In the July 29 feature, "The Ten Most Memorable Convention Moments," we stated that Nelson Rockefeiler "filipped the bird" to delegates at the 1964 Republican convention. Rockefeller actually "flipped the bird" to hecklers at a political rally in Binghamton, NY in 1976.

South African Adventure The roommates head to South Africa.

"It put a lot of things into perspective," David says of the trip, which included a visit to District Six, an area of Cape Town that under the apartheid system was bulldozed into oblivion, forcing 60,000 people of color to relocate. The experience moves David, leading him to befriend several locals to better grasp the realities of post-apartheid South Africa. His actions frustrate Melissa, however, as she can't fathom how he can express his feelings to strangers but not to her The roommates also descend a cliff by rope and take in a safari that, in Julie's words, showcases the "rawness of nature."

HOPKINS 24/7 (CC) WED. 10 PM 7

Debut: In a six-part documentary filmed at Battimore's Johns Hopkins Medicine. ABC News takes an unprecedented look at life in a hospital. The program was culled from 900 hours of film shot over three months, as cameras followed doctors and patients around the clock. The opener goes behind closed doors for a rare glimpse at a "Morbidity and Mortality" meeting, in which doctors assess their performance and try to learn from inevitable mistakes. Elsewhere, the chief of trauma surgery explains the often unsettling nature of his work, and a pediatric surgeon tries to cut through red tape to help a teen diagnosed with cancer. (1:00)

Robot Warriors

Debut: Mechanical mayhem abounds in this series of battles between remote-controlled robots. The homemade warriors vie in one-on-one events with others in their weight class. The skirmishes take place in the "BattleBox," a 48" X 48" arena surrounded by shatterproof glass and set with booby traps that spring up from the floor. Each bout lasts three minutes-unless there's a knockout. The first rounds feature Ziggo vs. Missing Link; Mauler vs. Nightmare; and Overkill vs. Frenzy. Sean Salisbury gives the play-by-play and Bill Dwyer provides commentary. Reporters include Randy and Jason Sklar, Donna D'Errico and Bill Nye.

TVGUIDEHOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21-April 20) You like to work hard and play hard—which is just as well given what the planets have in store for you over the next few days. Make sure that you leave time to enjoy yourself no matter how great your commitments. It should be a busy week!

For your extended Aries horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5558

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) You can achieve great things this week if you aim high and refuse to be deterred by skeptics. Tuesday's new moon in the most dynamic angle of your chart makes anything possible, especially when it comes to creative ventures and affairs of the heart.

For your extended Taurus horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5559*

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) Being a rational individual, you tend to be embarrassed by outbursts of emotion, but this week you'll have to deal with people who tend to think with their hearts rather than their heads. Try to understand them-it will pay off in the long run.

For your extended Gemini horoscope, cail: 1-900-825-5560*

CANCER (June 22-July 23) Be careful what you say this week because your words will carry more weight than you'll know. Colleagues and employers will pay attention to your ideas, especially around the time of Tuesday's new moon. Be sure to impress them.

For your extended Cancer horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5561

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) The time has come to review your finances and to work out a strategy for the future. If necessary, don't be afraid to tighten your purse strings—it will save you a lot of trouble in the future. Fun doesn't have to be expensive; it can even be free.

For your extended Leo horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5562*

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) Tuesday's new moon in your birth sign provides a splendid opportunity to start something new, or possibly make some changes to your lifestyle. The future is rosy just so long as you forget the past. Anything is possible if you show a little faith.

*For Your Extended Weekly Horoscope Dial the telephone number below your horoscope 99¢ per minute Average cail 4 minutes.

For your extended Virgo horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5563*

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) Unfounded anxieties will vanish once your harmonious ruler Venus enters your birth sign on Thursday Until then, you would be wise to keep a low profile. Soon you will realize how little you have to worry about.

For your extended Libra horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5564*

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) This is a week for getting out and about. It is also a time for working with others. By cooperating, you can achieve a great deal-and have some fun while you're at it

For your extended Scarpin boruscope, calt 1-900-825-5565*

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you are looking for a promotion, this is the time to get yourself noticed. Tuesday's new moon at the midheaven point of your chart gives you the chance to improve your reputation, not to mention your bank balance. Prepare to dazzle.

For your extended Sagittarius horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5566*

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20) Something you start this week stands a very good chance of being a success. However, you'll need to give it your total attention. Don't discount the advice of someone who knows more than you

For your extended Capricorn horoscope, call: 1-900-825-5567*

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) Try not to overreact to the irrational demands of someone at home or work. A disruptive opposition between Mars and your ruler Uranus indicates that they will respond better to reassurance than criticism.

For your extended Aquarius horoscopa, call: 1-900-825-5556*

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You need to listen to other people's ideas this week if you are to succeed with a life-enhancing project. After diplomatic Venus changes signs on Thursday you will be more likely to get the financial backing you desire. For your extended Pisces horoscope, calt: 1-900-825-5557
